

ITINERARY
MEXICO: OAXACA

I. March 7-14, 2020

II. March 26 - April 2, 2020

III. December 19-26, 2020

The Russet-crowned Motmot is a near-endemic of western Mexico. We've gotten great views of these colorful birds on previous tours, and we expect to find them in 2020 as well! Photograph by guide Dan Lane.

We include here information for those interested in the 2020 Field Guides Oaxaca tour:

- a general introduction to the tour
- a description of the birding areas to be visited on the tour
- an abbreviated daily itinerary with some indication of the nature of each day's birding outings

Those who register for the tour will be sent this additional material:

- an annotated list of the birds recorded on a previous year's Field Guides trip to the area, with comments by guide(s) on notable species or sightings (may be downloaded from our web site)
- a detailed information bulletin with important logistical information and answers to questions regarding accommodations, air arrangements, clothing, currency, customs and immigration, documents, health precautions, and personal items
- a reference list
- a Field Guides checklist for preparing for and keeping track of the birds we see on the tour
- after the conclusion of the tour, a list of birds seen on the tour

This tour offers rewarding winter birding in an area of Mexico with a high concentration of endemic species. The combination of a city with a rich archaeological and cultural heritage, short drives to numerous birding areas, and the possibility of seeing nearly twenty Mexican endemics (as well as many other interesting species), makes this tour a winner.

The beautiful colonial city of Oaxaca might itself be considered old were it not for the fact that the scenic semi-arid valley in which it stands is studded with the truly ancient cities of the pre-Columbian Zapotec culture. The imposing ruins of Monte Alban, overlooking the present-day city of Oaxaca, and Yagul, in the giant cactus forest to the south of the city, are reminders that a complex and advanced civilization flourished here millennia before the arrival of European conquistadores. The present day Zapotecs, many still clothed in colorful traditional dress, are living testimony to the concurrent existence of several different and distinctive cultures in modern Oaxaca.

Oaxaca is located at the crossroads of several major biogeographic regions of Mexico, and its bird life is influenced by all of these. The resultant mixture includes nearly two-dozen species endemic to Mexico. Some of these include West Mexican Chachalaca, Boucard's and Gray-barred wrens, White-throated and Collared towhees, Dusky and Beautiful hummingbirds, Bridled and Oaxaca sparrows, Gray-breasted Woodpecker, Dwarf Jay, Rufous-capped Brushfinch, Russet Nightingale-Thrush, Ocellated Thrasher, Blue Mockingbird, Red Warbler, and Slaty and Dwarf vireos.

About the Physical Requirements & Pace: Participants on this tour should be in reasonably good health and able to walk up to three miles in a day at a "birder's pace." (As we do a fair amount of standing in place while birding, we recommend small folding stools for those who would be more comfortable sitting.) Our birding will generally take place along wide dirt roads, some of which involve mild to moderate elevation change. If circumstances warrant (for example, a bird is calling from nearby, but somewhere off the road), we may offer optional short side trips on narrower, occasionally steeper, trails in search of particular species. Also be aware that during the visits to the ruins we will encounter some steep steps. Viewing conditions are generally good. Our main purpose is for all to see well and enjoy a rich diversity of species, but we prioritize the region's endemics and specialty species.

The city of Oaxaca sits about a mile above sea level, and we'll climb (by vehicle) to nearly 10,000 feet on a couple of days in the surrounding mountains. Because of the elevation, we take our hikes at a very moderate, even slow pace, but those who have trouble with altitude may wish to bring along medication to combat altitude sickness.

In the valley of Oaxaca, cool mornings quickly give way to warm, sunny days, and hot, breezy afternoons. Early starts are necessary to take full advantage of morning bird activity, and we'll meet for breakfast at 5:30 a.m. on all mornings. As the temperature climbs and bird activity drops off, our focus will shift a bit on several days to include other interesting features of the natural and cultural richness of Oaxaca, including a visit to the rug-producing town of Teotitlan del Valle, as well as to some of the finer ruins—including Monte Alban, Yagul, and Mitla. In the mountains, the temperature typically remains a bit cooler all day, so we'll continue to bird throughout the day on those visits. On a couple days, we may return to the hotel earlier than 5:30 p.m., but on most days, we will be away from the hotel all day.

One of the many advantages of birding out of a single site is the flexibility afforded to those who would like to skip a planned group activity and do something—or nothing—on their own. This is certainly a happy option in Oaxaca; our lovely hotel has a big pool and a bird garden and is an easy walk (or a quick cab ride) from the shops and museums at the city's center.

If you are uncertain about whether this tour is a good match for your abilities, please don't hesitate to contact our office; if they cannot directly answer your queries, they will put you in touch with the guide for the tour.

The lovely Golden Vireo is a western Mexican endemic, found from Oaxaca northward. We should see these, and several other scarce or endemic vireos on the tour. Photograph by guide Cory Gregory.

About the Birding Areas

The Valley of Oaxaca—The large interior valley in which Oaxaca City is located is on relatively level ground, sloping up to the ringing wall of high mountains that surround it. Arid subtropical scrub, including areas of giant yucca and giant cactus forest, clothe parts of the valley floor and lower slopes. On the higher slopes, dense areas of scrub and scrub oak support Oaxaca Sparrow, Ocellated Thrasher, Slaty Vireo, White-throated Towhee, and a number of species widespread in the Mexican highlands. More open, semi-desert habitats, including areas of giant columnar cactus, host the beautiful Bridled Sparrow, Gray-breasted Woodpecker, Boucard's Wren, and Beautiful and Dusky hummingbirds. The valley floor is at approximately 5000 feet, and the weather is typically warm and dry at this season.

Cerro San Felipe—The higher mountains surrounding the Valley of Oaxaca are most accessible on the slopes of Cerro San Felipe in the Sierra Aloxapaneca, north of the city. Although lumbering has occurred here, there are still magnificent forests of humid pine-oak and fir, as well as broadleaf "cloudforest." The distinctive highland avifauna of Mexico is restricted from further expansion by the low-lying Isthmus of Tehuantepec, just east of the mountains surrounding Oaxaca City. Many montane species, including several endemic to Mexico, reach their southern limits here. The most famous, partly because Cerro San Felipe is the only accessible place in the world where they can be found, are the endemic Dwarf Jays. These small, often quiet, jays frequently travel in mixed flocks through the canopy of humid montane forests with other highland specialties, including Gray-barred Wren, Spot-crowned Woodcreeper, and Chestnut-sided Shrike-Vireo. Black Thrush, the enigmatic Aztec Thrush (rare and erratic here as elsewhere in its range), Mountain Trogon, Rufous-capped Brushfinch, the elusive Long-tailed Wood-Partridge, Red Warbler, Collared Towhee, and Russet Nightingale-Thrush are among some of the other interesting species that inhabit these beautiful forests. Our birding will take place along dirt logging roads, where we will try to do our walking downhill as much as possible. Most grades are gentle to moderate, but a few may be steep. The elevation of our birding activity ranges from approximately 7000 to 9600 feet. Temperatures at these elevations will be chilly in the early mornings, but should warm to comfortable levels if skies are clear.

Itinerary for Mexico: Oaxaca

Day 1, Sat. Arrival in Oaxaca. Upon arrival into Oaxaca City, you'll be met at the airport by our local driver (who should be carrying a sign with your name and "Field Guides" on it) and transferred directly to our hotel. The ride from the airport to our hotel takes about 45 minutes. We'll get together in the hotel lobby at 7:00 p.m. for a short get-acquainted session; then, we'll head to dinner, where we'll discuss our plans for the tour. Night in Oaxaca City.

Days 2-7, Sun-Fri. The Oaxaca area. We will have six full days to thoroughly bird the Oaxaca area. This will allow us considerable flexibility in our daily schedule, so that repeat visits to key areas will be possible if deemed necessary to our goal of finding the endemic and specialty birds of the region. Our daily destinations will be announced by the guides, usually at dinnertime the night before, and will include all major habitats and proven birding sites in the vicinity. We will certainly visit the lush forests of Cerro San Felipe on at least two days, and we'll pay a visit to the ruins of Monte Alban, Yagul, and Mitla. While the focus of the tour will be on birding, there will be ample opportunity to sample the rich Zapotec culture, both in the markets and shops of the city (where you may wish to spend an afternoon) and in the outlying villages. Nights in Oaxaca City.

Day 8, Sat. Departure for home. You may schedule your departure for any time today; we will provide transportation to the airport based on departure times. ¡Que les vaya bien!

Visiting Oaxaca at Christmastime results in a few additional cultural perks: one can enjoy several traditions both pre-colonial and Catholic here. Besides the colorful adornments and traditional piñatas, there is the famous Noche de Rábanos (Night of the Radishes), which is an impressive feast for the eyes of art and humor involving these roots, either carved into elaborate shapes or used as the base for amazing scenes. On Christmas Eve, various groups collect to perform “posadas”, a procession of families and friends that provides a nativity scene and then ends at the city’s zocalo (town square) to form a parade before each group returns to its church for the Misa de Gallo (mass of the rooster). These, as well as other traditions pre-dating the Conquest, are among the sights we may see around the valley.

The Gray Silky-Flycatcher is almost endemic to Mexico, but is fairly widespread within the country. We'll see these elegant birds in the pine-oak habitats on the tour. Photograph by guide Micah Riegner.

About Your Guides

Tours I and III:

Dan Lane was barely out of diapers when his love for birds manifested itself. He was an active birder in his home state of New Jersey until he moved to Louisiana to pursue a master's studying Neotropical birds at Louisiana State University. By 1999, he'd received his degree and participated in three LSU expeditions to Peru and Ecuador, discovering a new species of bird (Scarlet-banded Barbet) along the way. His increasing experience with the Peruvian avifauna, coupled with having the luck of being "in the right place at the right time," landed Dan coauthorship on the recently published Birds of Peru—alongside his childhood heroes Ted Parker and John O'Neill. Meanwhile, his continuing fieldwork has resulted in uncovering additional new species to science (although writing these up, sadly, takes far more time than finding the birds, and Dan's way behind schedule).

Dan's interests in birds also include illustration, bird vocalizations, and bird biogeography and evolution. He's pleased to share his knowledge with participants on tours and loves birding with folks who are really enthusiastic about seeing BIRDS! Working with Field Guides is a blast and Dan thoroughly enjoys the friendship and fun the Field Guides family provides. His favorite areas are largely in tropical Latin America, but on occasion he has led tours to other corners of the globe and of course (somewhat) regularly birds near his home in Louisiana.

“Dan Lane is superior in all aspects as a guide—excellent recognition of bird sounds, patient in drawing birds in for views, able to relate to group members with relaxed courtesy and helpfulness.”
J.N. & E. S., Amazonian Ecuador:
Sacha Lodge

Tour I: Micah Riegner will be added as second leader as tour size warrants. (See his bio below.)

Tour III: Cory Gregory will be added as second leader as tour size warrants. (See his bio below.)

Tour II:

Doug Gochfeld was born and raised in Brooklyn, NY, and his interest in birds was sparked at a young age (he participated in his first CBC at the age of 7), in part by his father. This interest soon spiraled into a full-blown obsession for Doug for a few years before he abruptly shelved it, in favor of baseball, for several adolescent years. He picked up his interest in birds again in College and once again became a dedicated/obsessed birder.

For several years before starting to lead a full slate of tours for Field Guides in 2016, he traveled extensively as a working birder.

These field jobs have included multiple seasons monitoring migration at the legendary migration hotspots of Cape May, New Jersey, and Eilat in Israel. He also guided on St. Paul Island, in Alaska's Pribilof Islands, for parts of four years. He now leads all over the world for Field Guides. His robust interest in the birds and culture of East and Southeast Asia has brought him to lead a broad spectrum of tours across these fascinating regions. You can also find him exploring, through the lens of bird guiding, Australia, New Guinea, Israel, Alaska, and locales beyond and in between.

Doug is a Leica Pro Staff member, and he has been a regular leader at birding festivals throughout the USA. He has worked in Alaska, Suriname, and Brazil studying the breeding and wintering ecology of shorebirds, which hold a special place in his heart. His strongest interests in birding are migration, vagrancy, and patterns of distribution, and he's always excited to share his enthusiasm in, and knowledge of, these subjects and much more (even beyond birds!) on his tours, whether close to home or halfway around the world.

"Doug's enthusiasm, skill and tenacity at finding birds is amazing. He clearly loves showing birds to people - be it a common or not so common bird". D. S. Colorado Grouse Tour I: Micah Riegner will be added as second leader as tour size warrants.

Micah Riegner grew up exploring the Central Arizona Highlands and was fortunate to have parents who took him along on college field courses ranging from the coast of Mexico to the mountains of Costa Rica, where encounters with tinamous, barbets, and jacamars launched him into the birding world at a young age. During his time at Prescott College, he made annual pilgrimages to Amazonia, where he worked as a guide and participated in expeditions, mostly in Brazil. For his master's, he studied the foraging ecology of Amazonian woodcreepers. When he's not in the field, he tries to make time to paint birds and other creatures that spark his interest.

Micah guided tours with Bret Whitney, John Coons, Dan Lane, and Tom Johnson before joining Field Guides full time in 2019. Micah is a generous guide with an easy laugh and is eager to share his love of birds and nature in the years to come. We know you will have a great time traveling with him, too!

"Micah second chaired the tour with grace and humor and consistently demonstrated a quiet competence. He added a lot to the overall experience and spotted a ton of birds!" A.B., Pennsylvania's Warblers & More Tour III: Cory Gregory will be added as second leader as tour size warrants.

Cory Gregory started learning birds on flashcards at the age of three, but it wasn't until the ripe age of ten that things started to get more serious. Since then he has traveled to Central and South America, Australia, and all 50 states to try to get his fill of birding (and it hasn't worked yet!).

Cory earned a B.S. in zoology in Michigan, where he also worked for Whitefish Point Bird Observatory for several seasons. He then ventured to Iowa State University, where he earned a M.S. studying Long-billed Curlews in Nebraska. As an avid shorebird ecologist, he has handled more than 2000 shorebirds of more than 30 species.

After finishing school, Cory worked for several organizations as a shorebird ecologist and guided on St. Paul Island in the Pribilofs of Alaska for the 2014 and 2015 seasons. It was on St. Paul that his dream of stumbling on a first North American record was finally fulfilled. Cory is currently based out of Missouri where, when not on tour, he pursues his interest in birds, butterflies, and dragonflies with abandon.

Cory has co-lead Field Guides groups to Arizona, Cape May, Oaxaca, Texas, and Australia and has a busy and wide-ranging schedule coming up, from the US and Canada to Mexico, Costa Rica, Panama, and Peru.

"I am very glad you added Cory Gregory to your team. He is not only a great birder, he also has the right personality to be a guide: helpful, patient, friendly." S. L.; Oaxaca

Other Things You Need to Know

TOUR MANAGER: The manager for part I & III is Tina Rose. The manager for part II is Caroline Lewis. Tina & Caroline will be happy to assist you in preparing for the tour. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call her!

DOCUMENTS: For US citizens traveling to Mexico, a current passport is necessary to reenter the United States. If you are not a US citizen, please check with the Mexican consulate nearest you for entry requirements. Information about consulates and entry requirements is generally available online or you can contact us and we will be happy to look this up for you. Passports should have an adequate number of blank pages for your entire journey. Some countries require a blank page for their stamp and as a precaution it is best to have one blank page per country you will visit or transit.

IMPORTANT INFORMATION ABOUT IMMIGRATION IN MEXICO: Upon arrival in Mexico, the immigration officer will give you a paper form which you MUST keep with you at all times with your passport. Failure to present this when you are leaving for home will result in at least an extra day's delay.

AIR ARRANGEMENTS: Flights are available from most cities to Oaxaca via Mexico City or Houston. Field Guides is a full service travel agency and your tour manager will be happy to assist you with flights to join this tour. Field Guides does not charge a service fee for these services to clients booking a tour. However, we understand that tech-savvy clients often prefer to shop online or that you may wish to use mileage to purchase tickets. Regardless of which method you choose, your tour manager will be happy to provide assistance regarding ticket prices and schedules, along with rental cars and extra hotel nights as needed.

Please be sure to check with your tour manager prior to purchasing your ticket to make sure the flights you have chosen will work well with the tour itinerary and that the tour is sufficiently subscribed to operate. Once purchased, most airline tickets are non-refundable and carry a penalty to change. Field Guides cannot be responsible for these fees.

Also, it is imperative that we receive a copy of your comprehensive flight itinerary—including any and all flights not covered in the tour fee—so that we may track you in the event of missed connections, delays, or other mishaps.

LUGGAGE: Please be aware that many airlines have recently modified their luggage policies and are charging additional fees for checked bags. Updates could easily occur before your departure, so you may wish to contact your airline to verify the policy. Additional charges for bags on any flights, whether these are covered by the tour fee or not, will be the client's responsibility.

TOUR INCLUSIONS/EXCLUSIONS: The tour fee is $2850 for one person in double occupancy from Oaxaca City. It includes all lodging from Day 1 through Day 7, all meals from dinner on Day 1 through dinner on Day 7, all ground transportation including airport transfers, entrance fees, and the guide services of the tour leader(s). Tipping at group meals and for drivers, porters, and local guides is included in your tour fee and will be handled for the group by your Field Guides leader(s). However, if you would like to recognize your Field Guides leader(s) or any local guide(s) for exceptional service, it is entirely appropriate to tip. We emphasize that such tips are optional and not expected.

The above fee does not include your airfare to and from Oaxaca City, airport taxes, any checked or carry-on baggage charges imposed by the airlines, any alcoholic beverages, breakfast on Day 8, optional tips to local drivers, phone calls, laundry, or other items of a personal nature.

The single supplement for the tour is $510. If you do not have a roommate but wish to share, we will try to pair you with a roommate from the tour; but if none is available, you will be billed for the single supplement. Our tour fees are based on double occupancy; one-half the cost of a double room is priced into the tour fee. The single supplement is calculated by taking the actual cost of a single room and subtracting one-half the cost of a double room (plus any applicable taxes).

TOUR LIMITS: Our limits are firm and we don't exceed the limit by one to accommodate a couple when only one space remains open. However, on occasion, we will send along a guide in training on a tour. In these cases, one seat in the van or bus will be taken by the guide in training. Our guides will have a rotation system within the vehicle so that clients share the inconvenience equally. We hope this minor inconvenience will be more than offset by the advantages of having another guide along.

TOUR REGISTRATION: To register for this tour, complete the Registration/Release and Indemnity form and return it with a deposit of $275 per person. If registering by phone, a deposit must be received within fourteen days, or the space will be released. Full payment of the tour fee is due 120 days prior to departure, or by November 8, 2019 (Tour I), or November 27, 2019 (Tour II), or August 21, 2020 (Tour III). We will bill you for the final payment at either 120 days or when the tour has reached sufficient subscription to operate, whichever date comes later. Since the cost of your trip insurance and airline tickets is generally non-refundable, please do not finalize these purchases until you have received final billing for the tour or have been advised that the tour is sufficiently subscribed to operate by your tour manager.

SMOKING: Almost all of our clients prefer a smoke-free environment. If you smoke, please be sensitive to the group and refrain from smoking at meals, in vehicles, and in proximity to the group on trails and elsewhere.

CANCELLATION POLICY: Refund of deposit and payment, less $100 handling fee, will be made if cancellation is received up to 120 days before departure. If cancellation occurs between 119 and 70 days before the departure date, 50% of the tour fee is refundable. Thereafter, all deposits and payments are not refundable.

This policy only applies to payments made to Field Guides for tour fees (and any services included in those fees). Airline tickets not included in the tour fee and purchased separately often carry penalties for cancellation or change, or are sometimes totally non-refundable. Additionally, if you take out trip insurance the cost of the insurance is not refundable so it is best to purchase the policy just prior to making full payment for the tour or at the time you purchase airline tickets, depending upon the airlines restrictions.

The right is reserved to cancel any tour prior to departure, in which case full refund will constitute full settlement to the passenger. The right is reserved to substitute in case of emergency another guide for the original one.

TRIP CANCELLATION & MEDICAL EMERGENCY INSURANCE: We strongly recommend you consider purchasing trip cancellation (including medical emergency) insurance to cover your investment in case of injury or illness to you or your family prior to or during a trip. Because we must remit early (and substantial) tour deposits to our suppliers, we cannot offer any refund when cancellation occurs within 70 days of departure, and only a partial refund from 70 to 119 days prior to departure (see CANCELLATION POLICY). In addition, the Department of State strongly urges Americans to consult with their medical insurance company prior to traveling abroad to confirm whether their policy applies overseas and if it will cover emergency expenses such as a medical evacuation. US medical insurance plans seldom cover health costs incurred outside the United States unless supplemental coverage is purchased. Furthermore, US Medicare and Medicaid programs do not provide payment for medical services outside the United States.

When making a decision regarding health insurance, Americans should consider that many foreign doctors and hospitals require payment in cash prior to providing service and that a medical evacuation to the United States may cost well in excess of $50,000. Uninsured travelers who require medical care overseas often face extreme difficulties. When consulting with your insurer prior to your trip, please ascertain whether payment will be made to the overseas healthcare provider or whether you will be reimbursed later for expenses that you incur.

US citizens will receive from us a brochure regarding optional tour cancellation/emergency medical insurance. Our agent, CSA, will insure for trip cancellation and interruption, medical coverage, travel delay, baggage loss and delay, and emergency medical transportation. Currently we are unable to offer CSA insurance policies to residents of New York and Hawaii. We have had clients provide positive feedback after acquiring insurance with InsureMyTrip (www.insuremytrip.com) in the past, and would suggest that company as an alternative. Please let us know if you have any questions about this. If you purchase the insurance within 24 hours of making final payment for the tour, and cover all non-refundable parts of the trip (including any non-refundable flights), pre-existing conditions are covered. The CSA brochure includes a contact number; you may also purchase your CSA policy on-line by visiting our website at <https://fieldguides.com/travelinsurance.html> and clicking the link to CSA. Please note, once the insurance is purchased it is non-refundable, so please check with your tour manager prior to making the purchase to assure the tour will operate as scheduled. Citizens of other countries are urged to consult their insurance broker.

RESPONSIBILITY: For and in consideration of the opportunity to participate in the tour, each tour participant and each parent or legal guardian of a tour participant who is under 18 agrees to release, indemnify, and hold harmless Field Guides Incorporated, its agents, servants, employees, shareholders, officers, directors, attorneys, and contractors as more fully set forth in the Release and Indemnity Agreement on the reverse side of the registration form. Field Guides Incorporated acts only as an agent for the passenger in regard to travel, whether by railroad, motorcar, motorcoach, boat, airplane, or other means, and assumes no liability for injury, damage, loss, accident, delay, or irregularity caused by defect in such vehicles or for any reason whatsoever, including the acts, defaults, or bankruptcies of any company or person engaged in conveying the passenger or in carrying out the arrangements of the tour. Field Guides Incorporated accepts no responsibility for losses or additional expenses due to delay or changes in air or other services, sickness, weather, strike, war, quarantine, or other causes. The tour participant shall bear all such losses and expenses. Field Guides Incorporated reserves the right to substitute hotels of similar category for those indicated and to make any changes in the itinerary where deemed necessary or caused by changes in air schedules. Field Guides Incorporated reserves the right to decline to accept or to retain any person as a member of any tour. Baggage is at owner's risk entirely.

Participants should be in good health and should consult a physician before undertaking a tour. If you have questions about the physical requirements of a tour, please contact our office for further information. Participants should prepare for the tour by reading the detailed itinerary, the information bulletin, and other pertinent matter provided by Field Guides. Each participant is responsible for bringing appropriate clothing and equipment as recommended in our bulletins.

THE RECEIPT OF YOUR TOUR DEPOSIT SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE CONSENT TO THE ABOVE CONDITIONS. EACH TOUR PARTICIPANT AND EACH PARENT OR LEGAL GUARDIAN OF A TOUR PARTICIPANT WHO IS UNDER 18 SHALL SIGN AND DELIVER THE RELEASE AND INDEMNITY AGREEMENT AT THE TIME OF REGISTRATION.
