

ITINERARY
HOLIDAY MEXICO: YUCATAN & COZUMEL
November 20-29, 2021

The endemic Mexican Sheartail is classified as Near Threatened, as they occupy a very small strip along the northern Yucatan coast. We'll look for them when we visit the western coast at Celestun. Photograph by guide Cory Gregory.

We include here information for those interested in the 2021 Field Guides Holiday Mexico: Yucatan & Cozumel tour:

- a general introduction to the tour
- a description of the birding areas to be visited on the tour
- an abbreviated daily itinerary with some indication of the nature of each day's birding outings

These additional materials will be made available to those who register for the tour:

- an annotated list of the birds recorded on a previous year's Field Guides trip to the area, with comments by the guide(s) on notable species or sightings (may be downloaded from our web site)
- a detailed information bulletin with important logistical information and answers to questions regarding accommodations, air arrangements, clothing, currency, customs and immigration, documents, health precautions, and personal items
- a reference list
- a Field Guides checklist for preparing for and keeping track of the birds we see on the tour
- after the conclusion of the tour, a list of birds seen on the tour

Mexico's Yucatan Peninsula combines rich tropical birding with a spectacular cultural setting. The magnificent stone ceremonial cities of the ancient Maya rise up out of the tropical forests of this wondrous limestone peninsula like surreal visions of a lost world. Here, the culture and history of the Maya are woven together with an exciting amalgam of resident birds characteristic of northern Central America and endemic Mexican specialties found nowhere else in the world. Added to this already irresistible blend is a strong Caribbean influence in the birdlife of wonderful Cozumel Island—where there are also at least two endemics (Cozumel Emerald and Cozumel Vireo) which have never been recorded on the adjacent Mexican mainland.

Although the emphasis throughout will be on birding, we'll have good chances to savor the magnificent Mayan ruins of Chichen Itza and Uxmal, and to ponder the mysterious collapse of this ancient but highly advanced civilization. The rural Maya still live throughout the area in villages, some of which have changed little since the arrival of the Spanish in the early 16th century, and the faces one sees in the elaborate carvings could just as easily belong to the people one encounters going about their everyday lives here. As if this were not already tempting enough, we'll also dine at several elegant, restored Mexican haciendas.

Note: All participants and your Field Guides guide(s) will be required to have completed a full course of vaccination at least two weeks prior to the tour. Be sure to share proof of such vaccination with our office and bring a physical copy of your vaccination proof on tour. Having a vaccinated group will greatly diminish but not eliminate the possibility of the group and individual participants being adversely affected by COVID-19.

We want to be sure you are on the right tour! Below is a description of the physical requirements of the tour. If you are concerned about the difficulty, please contact us about this and be sure to fully explain your concerns. We want to make sure you have a wonderful time with us, so if you are uncomfortable with the requirements, just let us know and we can help you find a better fitting tour! Field Guides will not charge you a change or cancellation fee if you opt out within 10 days of depositing.

Physical requirements of this tour

- TRAILS & WALKING: Moderate amounts of walking (1-2 miles in morning, 1-2 miles in afternoon), mostly on roadways or good dirt or sandy trails. We occasionally step off the trails to pursue a bird of interest.
- POTENTIAL CHALLENGES: We will likely stand for long periods to observe flocks of birds, and a substantial part of some mornings may be spent on foot. At some archeological sites, climbing the steps or the slope of a temple can be tricky (walking sticks may be helpful).
- PACE: Early morning starts, with breakfast at 5:30-6:00 a.m. followed by birding until lunch. On most days, there is a break after lunch, followed by optional afternoon birding.
- WEATHER: Weather in Yucatan is warm to hot and usually sunny. Expect temperatures in the low 60s in the early morning, warming up quickly into the mid-80s to mid-90s F by mid-morning.
- VEHICLE SEATING: So that each participant has equal opportunity during our travel, we employ a seat rotation system on all tours. Participants will need to be flexible enough to maneuver to the back of the vehicle on occasion. Those who experience motion sickness will need to bring adequate medication for the duration of the tour, as we are not able to reserve forward seats for medical conditions.
- BATHROOM BREAKS: Whenever possible, we use modern, indoor restrooms, but on occasion, participants must be prepared to make a comfort stop in nature.
- OPTING OUT: Where we are staying multiple days in the same lodging, participants can easily opt to sit out a day or sometimes a half-day. This will not be possible on days when we are changing locations.

While we will certainly attempt to see all of the bird species we encounter, we will make a special effort to find the endemic and local specialties of the Yucatan. Some of these are quite common and conspicuous, while others take more time or may be the focus of a visit to a certain locale.

If you are uncertain as to whether this tour is a good match for your abilities, please don't hesitate to contact our office; if they cannot directly answer your queries, they will put you in touch with the guide.

About the Birding Areas

The island of Cozumel lies some 12 miles off the eastern coast of the Yucatan peninsula. Measuring roughly thirty miles long by twelve miles wide, it is covered by low, dense tropical evergreen forest, with mangroves fringing the shore in places. Species such as Green-breasted Mango, Bananaquit, Western Spindalis, Caribbean Elaenia, Smooth-billed Ani, and White-crowned Pigeon lend a definite West Indian flavor to the island's avifauna, and Cozumel is also the place where we are most likely to find Mangrove Cuckoo, Yellow-lored Parrot, Black Catbird, and Yellow-faced Grassquit. Other species we could see include Ruddy Crake, Yucatan Woodpecker, and Yucatan Vireo. A pair of endemics is possible here; Cozumel Emerald and Cozumel Vireo can be found right on the grounds of our hotel! Sadly, a third endemic, the Cozumel Thrasher, was all but wiped out by a series of hurricanes starting in September 1988, and the species hasn't been recorded anywhere for more than two decades!

Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve, located east of Felipe Carrillo Puerto, is a premier natural area in the Quintana Roo state of the Yucatan Peninsula. It is an area rich in diversity with more than 345 species recorded in the reserve. The seasonal rainforest that engulfs the ruins is the most luxuriant anywhere on our route, and holds a host of birds, some of which aren't likely elsewhere on the tour. We will explore two of the premier birding roads in this area, where we should see a nice mix of species characteristic of the wetter lowland forests of the Yucatan. This area is home to Thicket Tinamou, Ocellated Turkey, Great Currawong, Plain Chachalaca, Singing Quail, King Vulture, Hook-billed Kite, Black Hawk-Eagle, Scaled Pigeon, Blue Ground-Dove, Green-breasted Mango, Canivet's Emerald, Wedge-tailed Sabrewing, White-bellied Emerald, Gartered, Black-headed, and Collared trogons, Keel-billed Toucan, Yellow-lored Parrot, Rose-throated Tanager, and a plethora of flycatchers, becardas, and tityras. Nightbirds tend to be quite quiet at this time of year, but on at least one evening, we'll go in search of Mottled Owl, Northern Potoo, Yucatan Poorwill, and Yucatan Nightjar.

The spectacular ruins of Chichen Itza lie nestled in semi-deciduous forest. One of the largest of the ancient Mayan cities, its core area covers nearly two square miles, with scores of buildings, more than 80 sacbe (which extend off in all directions), and at least 13 ballcourts, including the largest and best preserved in all of Mesoamerica. Among the unique features of this ancient site are a pair of deep cenotes—huge sinkholes filled with fresh water. The woodland surrounding the site's restored buildings and our nearby hotel hold such species as Laughing Falcon, White-fronted Parrot, Golden-olive Woodpecker, Wedge-tailed Sabrewing, Chestnut-colored Woodpecker, Turquoise-browed and Lesson's (Blue-crowned), Boat-billed Flycatcher, White-bellied Wren, Masked and Black-crowned tityras, Rose-throated Becard, Clay-colored Thrush, Blue Bunting, and Yellow-winged Tanager.

The ruins of Uxmal feature massive blocks of masonry faced with a veneer of thin and beautifully cut stone. We'll take time to explore this extraordinary site, as well as the dense surrounding woodland that shares with Chichen Itza many of the Yucatan's characteristic birds. Species to watch for include Collared Forest-Falcon, Lesser Roadrunner, Barred Antshrike, Bright-rumped Attila, Green Jay, Gray-throated Chat, Painted Bunting, and Orange Oriole.

Celestun is situated in the coastal zone of the northern Yucatan—a narrow band of unique (and somewhat magical-looking) arid scrub, with many epiphytic and terrestrial orchids, bromeliads, and tall, stately, flowering agaves. Our hotel is right on the coast, with luxurious cabins sprinkled among the low vegetation; coveys of Black-throated Bobwhite sometimes scurry along the pathways here, and we should find the tiny, endemic Mexican Sheartail, the large Yucatan Wren, and the recently elevated Yucatan Gnatcatcher, all of which nest in the littoral scrub. This is also a good area for Olive-throated Parakeet, as well as shorebirds such as Black-necked Stilt, Greater and Lesser yellowlegs, Willet, and Solitary, Spotted, Stilt, and Western sandpipers. While here, we'll take a boat trip onto the Estero de Celestun, famous for its concentration of American Flamingos.

One of the endemics we will find on Cozumel is the Cozumel Vireo. Though confined to the island, the vireo is not rare, and we'll undoubtedly get good looks at these attractive little songbirds. Photograph by guide Chris Benesh.

Itinerary for Mexico: Yucatan & Cozumel

Day 1, Sat, 20 Nov. Arrival on Cozumel. As participants from North America will be arriving on different flights today, your guide will not be able to meet everyone at the airport. When you have cleared customs in Cozumel, please take a shared minibus or van to our hotel. You can buy a ticket at a counter just outside the baggage claim area, and catch the shared taxi outside. The trip to our hotel is short, though the exact trip length will vary depending on how many other stops the taxi makes. (They try to group hotel guests, so that the number of stops is minimized.) We'll gather this evening by the hotel pool at 6:30 p.m. to discuss the week's plans and head for dinner. Night on Cozumel Island.

Day 2, Sun, 21 Nov. Cozumel. Surrounded by the crystalline blue waters of the Caribbean (famed for its snorkeling, fabulous coral reefs, and endless shoals of tropical fish), Cozumel is a wonderful place to start our exploration of the riches of the Yucatan area. We may find Cozumel Emerald and Cozumel Vireo right on our hotel grounds! We'll venture further afield by vehicle, exploring areas of forest, swamp, mangrove, and beach primarily on the northern and western sides of the island. See the Cozumel entry in the "About the Birding Areas" section above for details on what we'll be looking for. Night on Cozumel.

Days 3-4, Mon-Tue, 22-23 Nov. To Felipe Carrillo Puerto. After some early morning birding on Cozumel on Day 3, we'll catch the ferry to the mainland (roughly a 45-minute trip) and drive 2 hours or so to Felipe Carrillo Puerto. FCP is located adjacent to the Sian Ka'an Biosphere Reserve, one of the wildest areas in northern Central America. It is host to a variety of species that are not found elsewhere on the Yucatan Peninsula and is well away from the tourist crowds. We'll have a full day to explore this area, with birding along Camino Virgilio Chico and a visit to Laguna Ocom. Nights at Felipe Carrillo Puerto.

Day 5, Wed, 24 Nov. Lago Coba and a drive to Chichen Itza. The porous limestone of the Yucatan holds very little surface water, so lakes are rare here. We will search the marshy margins of Lago Coba for the reclusive Ruddy Crake and Spotted Rail; other species we may see include Neotropic Cormorant, Purple Gallinule, Least Grebe, Northern Jacana, Limpkin, Couch's Kingbird, Gray-crowned Yellowthroat, and Grayish and Black-headed saltators. Morelet's Crocodiles live here, too. As we move westward across the northern end of the Yucatan, annual rainfall becomes progressively lower and the tropical woodlands lighter and scrubbier. It is here, however, that some of the peninsula's endemics and specialties reach their greatest densities. Our destination today is Chichen Itza, where we shall have this afternoon to explore the ancient ruins and tomorrow morning to seek many of the dry-forest birds. Dominated by the massive step pyramid of El Castillo, Chichen Itza is renowned as one of the New World's most impressive archaeological sites. It includes the famous Ballcourt, scene of a remarkable ball game that, according to some theories, ended with the execution of some of the players! Night at Chichen Itza.

Day 6, Thu, 25 Nov. Chichen Itza to Uxmal. After a morning of birding, we'll pack up and drive to Uxmal where we'll spend the next two nights. We should arrive at Uxmal in time for some afternoon birding near our hotel before dinner. Afterwards, you may choose to visit the ruins for the evening sound and light show (presented in Spanish) if you wish. Night at Uxmal.

Day 7, Fri, 26 Nov. Uxmal. We'll spend the early morning birding the road to Campeche which can be great for Gray-throated Chat, Yucatan Flycatcher, becards, orioles, and more. After breakfast, we'll visit the well-preserved ruins of Uxmal that feature buildings made of massive blocks of masonry faced with a veneer of thin and beautifully cut stone. We'll take time to explore this extraordinary site, as well as the dense surrounding woodland that shares with Chichen Itza many of the Yucatan's characteristic birds. Species to watch for include Laughing Falcon, Lesser Roadrunner, Golden-olive Woodpecker, Barred Antshrike, Bright-rumped Attila, Green Jay, the beautiful Gray-throated Chat, Painted Bunting, and Orange Oriole. After dinner, we'll offer another night-birding opportunity for the region's specialties. Night at Uxmal.

We'll visit the spectacular ruins of Uxmal and Chichen Itza, where we'll have a chance to bird among such sights as the Magician's Temple at Uxmal. Photograph by participant Michel Metayer.

Day 8, Sat, 27 Nov. Uxmal to Celestun. After some further birding around Uxmal this morning, we'll head northwest towards the coast. We'll make some birding stops as we approach Celestun, and plan to have lunch at an open-air restaurant on the beach of this small town. After lunch, we'll make the short drive to our attractive lodgings, stopping at a few places en route to check for Lesser Yellow-headed Vulture, Yucatan Gnatcatcher, Yucatan Wren, Mexican Shearwater, and various shorebirds. Night in Celestun.

Day 9, Sun, 28 Nov. Estero de Celestun to Merida. This morning's highlight will be a boat trip through the Estero de Celestun, a broad, mangrove-lined inlet that is the winter feeding ground for several thousand American Flamingos, at least some of which should have arrived by the time of our tour. Formerly part of the Greater Flamingo complex, this species is far more colorful than its Old World cousins. With luck, we may also see Bare-throated Tiger-Heron, Boat-billed Heron, Rufous-necked Wood Rail, Common Black Hawk, and the diminutive American Pygmy Kingfisher. In the afternoon, we'll drive to Merida, Yucatan's capital city. Night in Merida.

Day 10, Mon, 29 Dec. Merida; departure for home. Called the "White City," Merida is rich in history, and the central plaza and market are within easy walking of our hotel. Participant schedules will vary today depending on international flight arrangements. Safe travels!

About Your Guides

Megan Edwards Crewe has been birding since childhood, when she discovered she could have her father all to herself (rather than sharing him with her brother and sisters) if she was willing to get up very early on Saturdays and tromp around the woods in search of birds. After graduating from Purdue University, she sampled an impressive variety of jobs (including veterinary technician, park ranger, junior high school science teacher, freelance writer and computer programmer) before discovering Field Guides. Since joining the company more than two decades ago, Megan—who brims with information and enthusiasm—has delighted in sharing the wonders and adventures of birding and the natural world with tour participants. One unexpected bonus of the job was meeting her husband, Mike, with whom she co-led a trip to France in 2000. After bouncing back and forth between Europe and North America, they now live in a tiny village along the coast of the North Sea in England. She has led tours for Field Guides since 1997, including 21 of our previous Camargue and Pyrenees tours.

“Megan Crewe is a star, with superb birding (and people) skills, unbounded patience, and a fascinating trove of bird lore... We were abundantly favored and look forward to future trips with her.” J.H., Spring in Cape May

A local guide will be added as tour size warrants.

Special Note: Tour fees may be subject to change due to the global economic effects of COVID-19.

We have published the itinerary and price for this tour with the understanding that during these uncertain times we are likely to encounter unforeseen changes. Some of our tours may incur higher costs due to increases in currency exchange rate fluctuations or COVID-19 related fees imposed by countries and/or suppliers. Travel and hospitality companies all over the world have been adversely affected by the pandemic, and there is no guarantee that all of the lodging and transportation we have booked for this tour will still be available at the time of departure. We hope to maintain our services as indicated in our itinerary as well as our published tour fee. However, if changes are required we will make every effort to maintain the quality of the itinerary as it is published with the most appropriate substitutions available. Should any necessary changes or other unforeseen causes result in an increase in service rates to us, we reserve the right to pass on those increases in fees to the tour participant.

Other Things You Need to Know

TOUR MANAGER: The manager for this tour is Nicole Cannon. Nicole will be happy to assist you in preparing for the tour. If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to call her!

DOCUMENTS: For US citizens traveling to Mexico, a current passport is necessary to reenter the United States.

If you are not a US citizen, please check with the Mexican consulate nearest you for entry requirements. Information about consulates and entry requirements is generally available online or you can contact us and we will be happy to look this up for you. Passports should have an adequate number of blank pages for the entire journey. Some countries require a blank page for their stamp and as a precaution it is best to have one blank page per country you will visit or transit.

As noted above, all participants and your Field Guides guide(s) will be required to have completed a full course of vaccination at least two weeks prior to the tour. Be sure to share proof of such vaccination with our office and bring a physical copy of your vaccination proof on tour.

AIR ARRANGEMENTS: Please note that the tour begins in Cozumel and ends in Merida. Please call our office for the best fare from your home. Field Guides is a full service travel agency and your tour manager will be happy to assist you with flights to join this tour. Field Guides does not charge a service fee for these services to clients booking a tour. However, we understand that tech-savvy clients often prefer to shop online or that you may wish to use mileage to purchase tickets. Regardless of which method you choose, your tour manager will be happy to provide assistance regarding ticket prices and schedules, along with rental cars and extra hotel nights as needed.

Please be sure to check with your tour manager prior to purchasing your ticket to make sure the flights you have chosen will work well with the tour itinerary and that the tour is sufficiently subscribed to operate. Once purchased, most airline tickets are non-refundable and carry a penalty to change. Field Guides cannot be responsible for these fees. Also, it is imperative that we receive a copy of your comprehensive flight itinerary—including any and all flights not covered in the tour fee—so that we may track you in the event of missed connections, delays, or other mishaps.

LUGGAGE: Please be aware that many airlines have recently modified their luggage policies and are charging additional fees for checked bags. Updates could easily occur before your departure, so you may wish to contact your airline to verify the policy. Additional charges for bags on any flights, whether these are covered by the tour fee or not, will be the client's responsibility.

TOUR INCLUSIONS/EXCLUSIONS: The tour fee is $3475 for one person in double occupancy* from Cozumel. It includes all lodging from Day 1 through Day 9, all meals from dinner on Day 1 through dinner on Day 9, all ground transportation, entrance fees, and the guide services of the tour leader(s). Tipping at group meals and for drivers, porters, and local guides is included in your tour fee and will be handled for the group by your Field Guides leader(s). However, if you would like to recognize your Field Guides leader(s) or any local guide(s) for exceptional service, it is entirely appropriate to tip. We emphasize that such tips are optional and not expected.

The above fee does not include your airfare to and from Mexico, airport taxes, visa fees, any checked or carry-on baggage charges imposed by the airlines, any alcoholic beverages, phone calls, laundry, or other items of a personal nature.

The single supplement for the tour is $540. Our tour fees are based on double occupancy; one-half the cost of a double room is priced into the tour fee. The single supplement is calculated by taking the actual cost of a single room and subtracting one-half the cost of a double room (plus any applicable taxes).

*If you have a trusted friend, relative, or significant other with whom you wish to share a room on tour, please let us know and your tour manager will make that assignment. However, due to recommendations from the CDC, Field Guides is not currently pairing roommates who do not know each other, and the single supplement will apply if you do not have a roommate. As of this writing (April 29, 2021) we are reviewing these CDC recommendations carefully and often and will let you know if that changes.

TOUR REGISTRATION: To register for this tour, please contact our office. Our office will be in touch with you by email by the next business day (Mon-Fri) with instructions on how to complete our new electronic registration form and medical questionnaire. (We are no longer accepting the paper version.)

Please mail your deposit of $350 per person, or see our Payment Options at <https://fieldguides.com/payment-options/>. Full payment of the tour fee is due 120 days prior to departure, or by July 23, 2021. We will bill you for the final payment at either 120 days or when the tour has reached sufficient subscription to operate, whichever date comes later.

Please note that if you are traveling on a tour outside your country of domicile (for example, outside the US for US residents), we will require proof of travel insurance. Since the cost of your trip insurance and airline tickets is generally non-refundable, please do not finalize these purchases until you have received final billing for the tour or have been advised that the tour is sufficiently subscribed to operate by your tour manager.

TOUR LIMITS: Our limits are firm and we don't exceed the limit by one to accommodate a couple when only one space remains open.

SMOKING: Almost all of our clients prefer a smoke-free environment. If you smoke, please be sensitive to the group and refrain from smoking at meals, in vehicles, and in proximity to the group on trails and elsewhere.

CANCELLATION POLICY: Refund of deposit and payment, less $100 handling fee, will be made if cancellation is received up to 120 days before departure. If cancellation occurs between 119 and 70 days before the departure date, 50% of the tour fee is refundable. Thereafter, all deposits and payments are not refundable.

This policy only applies to payments made to Field Guides for tour fees (and any services included in those fees). Airline tickets not included in the tour fee and purchased separately often carry penalties for cancellation or change, or are sometimes totally non-refundable. Additionally, if you take out trip insurance the cost of the insurance is not refundable so it is best to purchase the policy just prior to making full payment for the tour or at the time you purchase airline tickets, depending upon the airlines restrictions.

Field Guides reserves the right to cancel any tour prior to departure, in which case full refund will constitute full settlement to the passenger. The right is reserved to substitute in case of emergency another guide for the original one.

TRIP CANCELLATION & MEDICAL EMERGENCY INSURANCE: We strongly recommend you consider purchasing trip cancellation (including medical emergency) insurance to cover your investment in case of injury or illness to you or your family prior to or during a trip. If you are traveling on a tour outside your country of domicile (for example, outside the US for US residents), we will require proof of travel insurance. Because we must remit early (and substantial) tour deposits to our suppliers, you acknowledge and agree that we will not issue a refund when cancellation occurs within 70 days of departure, and only a partial refund from 70 to 119 days prior to departure (see CANCELLATION POLICY). In addition, the Department of State strongly urges Americans to consult with their medical insurance company prior to traveling abroad to confirm whether their policy applies overseas and if it will cover emergency expenses such as a medical evacuation. US medical insurance plans seldom cover health costs incurred outside the United States unless supplemental coverage is purchased. Furthermore, US Medicare and Medicaid programs do not provide payment for medical services outside the United States.

When making a decision regarding health insurance, Americans should consider that many foreign doctors and hospitals require payment in cash prior to providing service and that a medical evacuation to the United States may cost well in excess of $50,000. Uninsured travelers who require medical care overseas often face extreme difficulties. When consulting with your insurer prior to your trip, please ascertain whether payment will be made to the overseas healthcare provider or whether you will be reimbursed later for expenses that you incur.

US citizens will receive information from us regarding optional tour cancellation/emergency medical insurance. Our agent, CSA, will insure for trip cancellation and interruption, medical coverage, travel delay, baggage loss and delay, and emergency medical transportation. If you purchase the insurance prior to, or within 24 hours of making final payment for the tour, and cover all non-refundable parts of the trip (including any non-refundable flights and in some cases, other arrangements), pre-existing conditions are covered. You may purchase your CSA policy on-line by visiting our website at <https://fieldguides.com/trip-cancellation-insurance/> and clicking the link to CSA. The CSA webpage also includes a contact number.

Currently we are unable to offer CSA insurance policies to residents of New York and Hawaii. We have had clients provide positive feedback after acquiring insurance thru InsureMyTrip (<https://www.insuremytrip.com/>) in the past, and would suggest that company as an alternative. When purchasing insurance with a company other than CSA, you will want to understand whether the timing of your purchase will affect coverage before paying your first deposit. Insurance purchase requirements can vary from company to company, and such requirements could limit your options if you do not look into this until making your final payment for your tour. Please let us know if you have any questions about this.

Please note, once the insurance is purchased it is non-refundable, so please check with your tour manager prior to making the purchase to assure the tour will operate as scheduled. Citizens of other countries are urged to consult their insurance broker.

RESPONSIBILITY: For and in consideration of the opportunity to participate in the tour, each tour participant and each parent or legal guardian of a tour participant who is under 18 agrees to release, indemnify, and hold harmless Field Guides Incorporated, its agents, servants, employees, shareholders, officers, directors, attorneys, and contractors as more fully set forth in the Release and Indemnity Agreement on the reverse side of the registration form. Field Guides Incorporated acts only as an agent for the passenger in regard to travel, whether by railroad, motorcar, motorcoach, boat, airplane, or other means, and assumes no liability for injury, damage, loss, accident, delay, or irregularity caused by defect in such vehicles or for any reason whatsoever, including the acts, defaults, or bankruptcies of any company or person engaged in conveying the passenger or in carrying out the arrangements of the tour. You acknowledge and agree that Field Guides Incorporated is not responsible for losses or additional expenses due to delay or changes in air or other services, sickness, weather, strike, war, quarantine, or other causes. The tour participant shall bear all such losses and expenses. Field Guides Incorporated reserves the right to substitute hotels of similar category for those indicated and to make any changes in the itinerary where deemed necessary or caused by changes in air schedules. Field Guides

Incorporated reserves the right to decline to accept or to retain any person as a member of any tour. Baggage is at owner's risk entirely.

Participants should be in good health and should consult a physician before undertaking a tour. If you have questions about the physical requirements of a tour, please contact our office for further information. Participants should prepare for the tour by reading the detailed itinerary, the information bulletin, and other pertinent matter provided by Field Guides. Each participant is responsible for bringing appropriate clothing and equipment as recommended in our bulletins.

THE RECEIPT OF YOUR TOUR DEPOSIT SHALL BE DEEMED TO BE CONSENT TO THE ABOVE CONDITIONS. EACH TOUR PARTICIPANT AND EACH PARENT OR LEGAL GUARDIAN OF A TOUR PARTICIPANT WHO IS UNDER 18 SHALL SIGN AND DELIVER THE RELEASE AND INDEMNITY AGREEMENT AT THE TIME OF REGISTRATION.
